NEGRO SUFFRAGE. CONVENTION AT OBERLIN.

Resolutions Speeches and Address to the Public.

Speech by Judge Beilamy Storer. To Lorein county belongs the honor of opening the political campaign in the State, abut to the wall of the downtrodden? and she has opened it with a vigorous enunciation of the principles of human equality, and taken a high, resolute stand in favor of arming the negroes, North and South, with the ballot, now that the musket has been dropped and the Union maintained. Several weeks ago a call for a mass meeting of the county was issued, to be held in Oberlin on the 19th instant, with the promise that the prominent question for discussion would be Negro Suffrage.

The day arrived, but it dawned yesterday | the late terrible war a necessity to the Fed The day arrived, but it dawned yesterday through deluges of falling rain. The earl Government; the same great law makes it our national wisdom and duly to adjust the notifical power of those States so as to another the same and the point of this nation for generations to come. But Oberlin turned out of safety, self-support and progress. Make in numbers sufficiently large to fill the First them equal before the law to the white race. Give them the elective franchise on the same ed with great good feeling, harmony and enthusissm.

This, and nothing short of this, will ensure them their personal, inslicenable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Admitted to the polls, they become a power to be respected and even courted by the politicians. Excluded, they must remain a helpless, unprotected class, cruelly wronged and necessarily imperilling the peace of the nation.

These views of our national policy and true wisdom must commend themselves to At half pest one o'clock the venerable Anti-slavery Patriarch, Father Keep, called the meeting to order, whereupon Profeasor J. H. Fairchild was appointed Chairman and S. S. Calkins, Secretary.

A Committee on the Declaration of Sentinents was appointed, consisting of the folowing gentlemen: Rev. Henry Cowles, Rev. E. N. Bartlett, Rev. F. Shipherd, Prof. J. M. Ellis, Hon. L. L. Rice, J. Lee, Prof. J. M. Ellis, Hon. L. L. Rice, J. Les, and T. Jackson.

The committee retired, when Judge Bellamy Storer was introduced. It must not be supposed that the speeches were made for the purpose of making converts; for the people of Lorsin are generally educated up people of Lorsin are generally educated up to the conviction that universal suffrage is demanded by sound policy and impartial indeed for its very existence. That rebeidemanded by sound policy and impartial justice. The Judge evidently took this view of the case, for he did not enter upon any elaborate argument in favor of negro enfranchisement, but rather indulged himself in a general review of the history of the acti slavery movement, culminating as the acti slavery movement, culminating as the demands that the nation shall not throw the same law demands that the nation shall not throw the compal are to extreme measures to avert extreme perils. The same necessity which demanded emancipation demands now that slavery be rooted up, expelled from the body politic of both those old slave States and the Federal foregramment and that the nation shall not throw away in a breath all it has gained by the same necessity which demanded that the nation shall not throw away in a breath all it has gained by the market and the same necessity which demanded that the same necessity which demanded t

He was often interruped by bursts of applause.

On the conclusion of his speech, the Chairman of the Committee offered the following resolution, preliminary toan address to the public embodying the views of the Convention on the subject of negro suf-

To everlook it would be most pulpable crase from the constitution of this State the power to looking. To everlook it would be most pulpable from the constitution of this State the raineus policy. The war through which we have passed was, on the rebel side, most the way in it. Let us word "white," and that we urge our fellow citizens of other counties to join us in this effort to relieve the State of the odium of wronging the soldier and citizen who has given his life and substance to crush thereballion.

The resolution was runnimously adopted. The Chairman then proceeded to read the following:

FELLOW CITIZENS: Moved by a sense of national peril, we sak your calm but earnest attention to the poincy of re-construction already indicated by our Government, and to its probable results.

Sensecy emerged from the danger of national run by an armed rebellion, we are the construction of the constitution of the construction of the constitution of the constitution

Scarcely emerged from the danger of na-tional rum by an armed rebellion, we are met by other dangers less palpable, but for this very reason, perhaps, more serious and threatening. The Slave Power has failed to subvert the Federal Union by the swors;

The address was received with great fuits next move will be to take possession and wield is for its own purposes by the ballot. Look at the recent development of facts. The States late in rebellion are declared and ecided to be in fact States in this Federal lion with their State rights unabridged, their State constitutions unchanged. The of recent rebels is going forward.

Men who have proved their disrapidly. Men who have proved their dis-loyalty through a four years' bloody war ad persistent rebellion will control the new government of these States, and are preparing to take their scats of power in our next sessions of Congress. Oaths of allegiance, broken without compunction in allegiance, broken without compunction in 1860 and '61 to make trial of war to perpet-uate slavery, are sworn over again with equal facility to make trial of the new method of controling and subverting the Federal Government for the sake of slavary.

J. M. Langston, Esq., that gentleman took the stand, and delivered one of the ablest and most spirited speeches we have yet During the last fifty years, with the sin- heard. He criticised very severely any and gle exception of the Democratic Presidential Convention of 1830, the friends of playment in the late Slave States, while the ery in this nation have been a unit. They will know how to be a unit again. The thoughtful, observant minds in the namen has been also been a unit again. The thoughtful, observant minds in the namen work was not also prosecuted in the interest of those of one section was sympathy in the Northern and Western sympathy in the Northern and Western States—a spirit ripe for most desporate measures to said the Slave Power in subvertigate the Powerfie Western States—as print ripe for most desporate measures to said the Slave Power in subvertigate the Powerfie Western States with the Interest of those of one section was that of those of the other; that if the negrous the same of the other is that if the negrous the same of the other is that if the negrous the same of the other is that if the negrous the same of the other is that if the negrous the same of the other is that if the negrous the same of the other is that if the negrous the same of the same of the other is the same of the ng the Republic. Union between these elements and the restored Slave States is aircady an established fact.

Two fiths of nearly four millions of recent slaves are now to be added to the representative population of those lately rebel States, giving them its additional members in Congress. What will they do when they come to control the Federal Government by the force of majorities?

Can it be for one moment doubted that in no long process of time they will annul the decree of emancipation; restore slavery in the late slave Statos; reverse all that has been decree to express it from the Federal What will they do when they been done to expunge it from the Federal Constitution; repudiate the national debt, or, as the alternative, assume the war debt of the Confederacy; trample down the col-ored race; drive them to desperation and perhaps to violence, and urge the nation onward in a career of injustice, oppression and wrong, the legitimate results of which can scarcely be less than to disorganize so-ciety, hurl down our republican institujions, and bring upon the nation the right-cous retributions of Jehovah?

Let us call renewed attention to the fact world, it equally excludes from the pells that entire class of citizens who alone have proved themselves thoroughly loyal, and whose loyalty has saved the nation. During the last four years nobody has dared to question the therough loyalty of the long enslaved race. Their devotion to the Union, their love for it, their fidelity to

FINANCIAL & COMMERCIAL.

WEDSERDAY EVENIES, July 19, 1845. Cold Storm —On Saturday and Sunday we were visited by a very cold and continuous rain storm, which caused considerable apprehension lest damage should ensue to sales of seven-thirties and partly from a considerable species the crops, but so far as is known, there was able demand for Eastern exchange. Exchange is many and steady at 1/91% off buying and par soil

A demand for a few days past in New York for bills on Canada, induced by the low rates of exchange, has added ma erially to the supply of ca h gold, which together with the fact that agents of foreign bankers are buying largely of 5-38's, affects somewhat the movements of the bulls, and our dispatches report them anxious to cell at what they perhaps too much to expect that livery- paid. The very large demand for erstoms, how ever which attil exists, may soon reverse the situ stable keepers will conform to the down-ward fluctuations of the hay market, as at an atvance of 4c. Corn is in some dem ad, but for their horses, exclusive of feeding, the considerable irregularity exists in prices as t nearly all of the railroad mechanical shops sound lots are in very light supply, and holders are nearly all of the railroad mechanical shops for complete this plane and such them to complete the railroad mechanical shops are in fair de-

the interior space, but a large and hand-some building, which I estimate at about Hams and D ied Beef, and dealers find themselves unable to keep pace with their orders.
In Produce there is no quotable change. The demand for Butter and Eggs is good; Chesserather quiet. Petrojeum continues to meet with a pretty free inquiry for fature delivery, but we hear of no con-siderable tracantions. Prices are unchanged. Highwines are again ruling quiet, but holders are firmer in their views at $2,05. The following were the receipts and shipments
